

TASC Day - Martinmas - 11th November 2009

The whole school participated in a TASC day on Wednesday 11th November to celebrate Martinmas. Groups were made up of pupils from each year group and they were set different activities to complete during the day.

The day started with Mrs McGlew outlining the story of St Martin, explaining who he was and how he became a Saint, followed by how Martinmas is celebrated in other countries.

Dividing up into different areas of the school, the groups then took on the challenge of making lanterns, drawing a still life tableau, researching facts about countries in Europe who celebrate Martinmas, writing poetry, creating a whole school collage, making shields ... and lots more.

St. Martin's Day Poem

St Martin was a Roman guard and fighting was hard
 His horse was clean and he wasn't mean.
 They walk around their village with lanterns to light
 They don't do it when it is light during the day.
 He was made a Bishop in France,
 To celebrate he did a dance!
