150th Anniversary Celebrations
10th July 2009

Speldhurst School celebrated its 150th Anniversary on Friday 10 July. All the children and staff dressed as Victorians and attended church, paraded around the village and took lessons as they would have been in Victorian times. The children were impeccably behaved and seemed to suit this style of working! One of our governors, Mrs Bartlett, also shared some Victorian artefacts with some of the older children. Their particular favourite was a beautiful music box.

Parents, governors and past pupils were invited to join us in the afternoon to really celebrate the school's birthday. The children performed some lovely Maypole dancing and were extremely excited to see the launch of over 150 balloons - one for each pupil and new entrant - as part of a Great Balloon Race. We are hoping many labels get returned over the holidays so we can see how far the balloons travelled. The afternoon was rounded off by a tea party - jelly and cake - delicious! Here's to the next 150 years!!
