KS2 Visit to Dickens World
15th September 2011

The `stunning start' for our new topic was a surprise visit to Dickens World near Chatham. We had all come to school dressed in Victorian costume thanks for our parents being in on the secret and travelled by coach to the attraction. As we stepped inside Dickens World we were taken back in time to the Victorian era, there were shops as they were then, as well as a school room and even prison cells! We were given a very interesting talk about what life would have been like for children in Victorian times; listened to the story, Nicholas Nickelby and also saw a shortened play of A Christmas Carol, both by written by Charles Dickens.
