Victorian Day – 7th February 2007

Our whole school experienced school of yester-year when we were transported back to the Victorian Days. Staff and pupils dressed up in period costume and KS2 were entertained by the Rainbow Theatre Group who provided drama and role play scenarios to give the children a really good picture of what life was like for poorer children during this period. The original school cane was brought out of the cupboard and children paid 1p each to chant their times tables, take scripture lessons and read aloud from the Bible!

The day was a great success and everybody really entered into the spirit of the occasion. Here are some snapshots to give you a flavour of the day:-
